

My Work Day: Events, Reactions, & Insights

The purpose of this tool is to help you track your own inner work life, the progress you make each day in your work or projects, and insights you gain. Skip any questions that aren't relevant to you. Devote 5-10 minutes to this at the end of each day, and look back on your diary records at least monthly – preferably weekly. We aim to make this tool useful to you. If you have ideas for improvement, please click Contact at the top of the web page and let us know.
